

SWOSU Student Gets Book Published

06.12.2013

Southwestern Oklahoma State University student Preston Patterson holds the copy of his recently-published book. A book signing is planned June 19 in downtown Weatherford.

One of Southwestern Oklahoma State University's students in Weatherford has authored a recently-published book, and a book signing is planned for Wednesday, June 19, in downtown Weatherford.

Preston Patterson of Hugoton (KS) is a senior at SWOSU majoring in business management. His book, New Generation Firstborn: Suki, was published by Tate Publishing & Enterprises.

Patterson describes his debut novel as a work that is similar to the Harry Potter series, but instead of wizards and witches, his characters are children of fallen angels. Patterson's book was written in less than one year, his second book is already complete, and he is starting on a third book.

The book signing for New Generation Firstborn: Suki will be held June 19 from 3-5 p.m. at Hooked on Books in downtown Weatherford. Everyone is invited to visit with Patterson and have him sign a copy of the first book in this new series.
